Spirited Redskins Enjoy

Manualites are always on the move. They are constantly hurrying and scurrying to make the most of the too-few daytime hours. Much of this time is spent in or about school. Although not many will admit it, most Manualites enjoy school and the many fun-packed activities it provides. This fast-moving tempo makes high school years pass all too quickly.

School Days Brim

It's a help for a man to know how to cook, and Manual "chefs" become pretty expert in the culinary arts. In Boys Foods Lab, Ron Sanders, Vasco Walton, Lindsey Beal, Kendall Coop, and Bob Jones work together at a pair of "kitchens." Home Economics helps prepare many Manualites for future homemaking.

Art Production, upperclassmen only, is a self-appointed member of the Manual Promotion Department. Signs, posters, programs—anything needed for a Manual function is a specialty with this energetic group of artists, guided by Miss Gladys Denney.

With Preparations for Future

Emmerich Manual Training High School, founded in 1895 as an industrial training school, has since developed into a regular academic high school, although the name is retained as tradition. More than 150 courses, touching every field, are offered. An excellent shop department, which trains students for good jobs in industry, is still an important part of the school; but college preparatory work is now stressed. Manual students can prepare for any college in the United States. Pupils, terminating their education with high school, may major in business, home economics, industrial arts, music, or fine arts and be well trained for jobs. Supplementing classes, academic clubs add to Manualites' education because of their co-curricular activities.

Manual's Business Education Department turns out many efficient secretaries. Using the most modern of office equipment in our business classrooms, students are well prepared for jobs in up-to-date offices.

Having to write a term paper for an English or Social Studies class is good experience for college-bound Redskins or future business men and women. Dona Lang and Tom McKinley check sources for their papers in the Library.

Basic 3R's, Plus Many Special Subjects,

The first week in June is Manual's Student Projects Fair. All departments display their products in one big show in the Gym, and everybody comes.

Above is a boat lift made in the Industrial Arts Department. Below, interested Manualites look over the "yard parks" designed by biology students.

Learning in our five-year-old modern plant is fun. Just-like-new equipment and large, well-lighted classrooms do much to provide a pleasant atmosphere. Competent teachers make learning easy and interesting.

Our school day consists of eight, 40-minute periods. Most students stay in school the full time, and, even then, it is impossible to take everything desired from the many varied subjects offered. College-bound pupils fill-up their schedules with Manual's special college preparatory courses, while pupils ending their education with high school graduation take advantage of this last formal training.

Academic achievement is rewarded by many seniors' winning scholarships to colleges. Faculty members encourage participation in outside contests and projects.

During a geometry class, one of numerous mathematical courses offered at Manual, Bob Burton and Mr. Raymond Van Arsdale, instructor, discuss a proposition for the class.

Enrich Our Curriculum

Lt. Bruce Pinc, a researcher in the development of space apparel at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, addresses a chemistry class on the Physiology of Space Travel during his visit to chemistry and math classes at Manual on March 12.

Auto Shop, a favorite course for boys owning their own cars, teaches the maintenance of the automobile, and pupils actually delve into the "innards" of cars.

Machine Shop pupils prepare for jobs in industrial plants. Learning to use precision machinery has readied many pupils to be tool and die makers.

Manual's "sharp-looking" ROTC cadets return from Federal Inspection, where they earned an "Honor School" rating. Cadets drill many hours for the event.

ROTC Battalion Marches Through Year

We Manualites are proud of our outstanding ROTC unit, and are well aware that some 200 boys are cadets when Thursday and Friday roll around. Those are uniform days, and our khaki-clad cadets add a martial flavor to the school. Each Friday, one of the six ROTC sponsors, in red jacket and white skirt, inspects the battalion. This gives the cadets reason for "polishing their brass," and the boys covet inspection ribbons.

With Polished Precision

ROTC cadets prepare for the Spring Federal Inspection early in the year—but they always find time for their annual Military Ball. Besides their regular activities, cadets may join the ROTC History Club, Rifle Team, or Drill Team. These special organizations train the boys, not only in military knowledge, but also in leadership and character, and give them interesting contacts.

M/Sgt. Jack Nunnery outlines some military procedures for the ROTC Honorary Cadet officers, Judy Loeper, Laqueta Hines, Sara Baker, Sharon Wallace, Linda Schulz, and Julie Kistler.

Many Grads Troop Back

A standing-room-only crowd of present and past Manualites braved the unusually cold weather to witness a "perfect" Homecoming on September 27.

Preparations for the gala event actually began several days before with the selection of King and Queen candidates by Senior Home Rooms. An all-school vote elected the royal couple, but the outcome was kept secret until their crowning.

Finally the big night arrived, and the enthusiastic crowd watched the Redskins roll up a 35-0 lead over Warren Central by the end of the second quarter.

Our 85-piece marching band initiated the half-time ceremonies by presenting a special show and then going into a tepee formation. The twelve candidates were escorted onto the field in six gaily decorated convertibles. Papooses LaRue White and Charles Hoene, smallest girl and boy freshmen, arriving in the "Smallest" car, a Volkswagen, carried the crowns.

When not performing at a football game, the band occupies reserved seats on the 50 yard line in front of the press box. Near neighbors are the Pep Club and together they provide a lot of noise to boost our team.

For Gala Homecoming Pageant

Twin freshman football players, Tom and Dick VanArsdale, rolled out the carpet on which the candidates promenaded to their positions on the field. Tom McCormick and Lois Strong Barnhart, '56 royalty, crowned Paul Frodge as King Manual VI and Betty Shaner as his Queen.

The exciting game ended with the final score 70-0. It was the largest score for a Manual football team since 1923 and made this Homecoming one to remember.

Freshmen LaRue White and Charles Hoene, traditional Homecoming papooses, start out on the field, bearing the glittering crowns that soon will designate the new royalty.

'Marked' Seniors Parade with Class

Senior officers installed by Principal C. Edgar Stahl on Senior Day are Don Kerner, treasurer; Jerry Mayfield, president; Gary Beplay, vice-pres.; and Carol Driskell, secretary.

Continuing a 49 year old tradition, the Class of '58 donned senior arm bands, stenciled on felt by the Art Production Class, as identifying insignia for Senior Day, October 23. It was a "dress-up" occasion for all seniors, and ribbons in class colors, red and white, and roses were presented each member during Home Room. After school seniors assembled in the Cafeteria for a party with dancing to music by the Manual Dance Band.

As a gift to the school, the Class of '58 added 15 new speakers to the sound system in the Gymnasium. Eleven located on the walls and four suspended from the ceiling, will make it possible to have commencement exercises in the Gym in case of bad weather. Used during basketball season and for school assembly programs, this gift has already proved its worth.

From the crowd at the Senior Day party in the Cafeteria, it looks as though the '58er's turned out en masse for their first class activity.

Nancy Brandlein serves punch to Gloria Bowers as Dianne Stokes, Ed White, and Neil Whitaker wait their turns. Sandy Lasley assists at the punch table.

Principal-for-a-day Don Kerner dictates a letter to his secretary, Janice Moran, who replaced Mrs. Mary J. Spiegel, secretary to the principal. Principal C. Edgar Stahl is the interested on-looker.

Pupils Act in Faculty Roles for a Day

As a feature of National Education Week, Manual staged a pupil-teacher "turn-about" day, November 13. Selected seniors assumed the roles of principal, vice-principals, directors, and department heads. Each "new" official spent the day with his counterpart, learning first hand what the job involved and even conducting some of the business of the day. In many classrooms, pupils who had been briefed beforehand taught the day's lessons.

Climaxing Student-teacher Day was a punch party in the Cafeteria to which faculty brought their proteges. Everyone agreed the project was fun and worthwhile.

Mr. E. Edward Green, Director of Productions, and Mrs. Vivian Siener, Dean of Girls, pause for refreshment at the after-school party with Lin Schulz and Elva Ayers.

Manual's Publications Boost Activities, Record

Manual's weekly newspaper, The Booster, which has backed the school's activities since 1912, was again awarded top honors by the three rating services, Columbia Scholastic Press Association, National Scholastic Press Association, and Quill and Scroll. "Sparkling headlines" and "superb editorials" we quote with pride from rating books' comments. During March and April The Booster promoted a "Safety Campaign," running numerous editorials and features on driver and pedestrian safety and presenting an Assembly Program skit. This campaign won sixth place and $50 in a national contest.

Libby Hart, Teen Star correspondent, interviews Junior Jerry McClain who attends Manual by telephone.

Paul Frodge and Laqueta Hines were crowned King Ivan and Queen Ann at the "Pic Parade," Ivian Dance where underclass pictures are sold.

Plans for the 1958 Ivian were formulated at the Indiana University High School Journalism Institute last summer. Editor Teddy Winckelbach and Art Editor Jerry Mayfield carried off second place honors in the "plans" competition among staffs in their book-size division. Hundreds of pictures have been planned, taken, and cropped since that time and copy has been written and rewritten to fit designated spaces and still tell the story of the year. Yearbook staff's work ends with the John Henry Hop, this year on June 5, where subscribers pick up their books and spend a busy evening exchanging autographs with friends.

Accomplishments

At a dress rehearsal Virginia Newbold, Sara Walls, and Ann Stultz perform a cake-walk dance to "Rouge Et Noir." It is also the name of one of the perfumes which is being judged during the action of the "Prince of Pilsen."

Music Groups Stage 'Prince of Pilsen'

French maids Jean Saffel, Joyce Quinton, Gloria Hendricks, and Judy Jensen take time out from their chores to sing a chorus of "Keep It Dark."

Gary Beplay as Francois, the head-waiter, laughs heartily with Frank Carson, as Henri the bellhop, over the name of a town which is the home of one of their guests.

The Music Department presented "The Prince of Pilsen" by Gustav Luders, as its 1957 operetta on November 22 and 23. Paris provided the setting for the musical comedy, and the plot revolved around the prize-winning scent of the Festival of Perfumes. Charles Lohman and Janis Small played the romantic leads in the production and sang the two most familiar melodies, "Heidelberg Stein Song" and "Message of the Violet." Several of the parts were double-cast.

Distinctive Christmas Trees 'Deck the Halls'

Juniors decorated the tree in the main entrance—a traditional junior class project. Ornaments were unwrapped and hung in the branches as the workers laughed and joked over cokes.

The weeks preceding Christmas are busy and exciting ones at Manual. Almost every club has a party where gifts are exchanged and seasonal refreshments are served. Many clubs also have worthwhile projects to help the unfortunate. The music groups are especially active as they entertain at community functions. The building is gaily decorated with trees, wreaths, and mistletoe. Highlighting the season is the annual Christmas Auditorium presented by the Music Department and repeated for the December P-TA Meeting.

The Publications Office, not to be outdone, made its own tree from newspapers and chicken-wire. "Trimming" the "tree" are Carolyn Brooks, Jim Schulz, and Don Snider.

A "singing tree," formed by the Girls Glee Club, created a beautiful illusion as part of a playlet for the Christmas Auditorium. Action revolved around the tree when it "came to life" by magic.

Dads, who are members of the Manual Dads' club, selling popcorn, ice cream and other refreshments, are a welcome sight to the Cheersters in the Pep Club for a pick-me-up during the game and half time. The refreshment stand, also sponsored by the Dads' Club, is a favorite spot for spectators.

Energetic Parents Increase Funds with Fun

Decked out in lamb's-wool sweaters received for being Dotty and Dan at the Dads' Club Bean Supper, are Sharon Lahrman and Ron Miller.

Moms and Dads lend Manual support with their active organizations, the Parent-Teacher Association and the Dads' Club. To buy school equipment, pay expenses for summer workshops, and award scholarships, each has money-making projects. The P-TA annually sponsors a fair in the spring, this year the "Hit Parade." The Dads' Club projects are the Dotty-Dan-Dad Bean Supper and refreshment stands at games.

A typical scene at the annual P-TA "fair" is the gay crowds of people as they patronize the shopping booths and the all-age games located in the Gym. Another feature is the talent show which is presented twice during the evening.

Gaiety, Laughter Reign at School Dances

Among the varied school activities at Manual, perhaps the most thrilling are the dances. Memories of proms and after-game get-togethers will remain with students throughout their lifetime. An evening in Paris is a dream of all teenagers. That dream came true for Manual juniors who attended the Prom at Butler University's Ather-ton Center. Paris was its theme!

The annual Cherry Tree Hop, to which girls in-vite boys, always comes near Washington's birth-day—hence its name and its "royalty," dubbed Martha and George. Faculty members co-operate with students in planning and arranging for dances, so they are really all-school affairs.

Grid 'Scholars,' Band Win Kiwanis Trophies

Mr. George Pattison from the Kiwanis Club presents the Scholarship Trophy to Mr. Noah Ellis, football coach. Each boy received a silver belt buckle.

Manual's football team again won the Downtown Kiwanis Club's Football Scholarship Award for the second straight year. Grid teams of all eight city high schools were considered for this award. Manual's top 22 "player-scholars" earned a 6.2 average while the next highest team had a 5.6 average.

Our marching band, under the direction of Mr. William D. Kleyla, won the Kiwanis "Best Football Band" award for the fourth consecutive year. The trophy was presented at the Downtown Kiwanis Club's fourth annual city high school football awards banquet. Judges considered discipline, on the field and in the stands; playing—tone, pitch, school song; marching; special maneuvers; entertainment value, and general appearance in making their decision.

Band officers proudly exhibit their four Kiwanis trophies. They are Captain Dave Brink, seated, Elaine Schultz, Willis Overton, Judy Ferguson, Jim Crose, Don Hoffmann and Judy Schrader. Marching formations were planned in advance on a football field lay-out sheet like the one on the table. Many hours were spent in perfecting the difficult maneuvers.

Manual Receives 'Freedoms Foundation' Award

Another honor came Manual's way from the Freedoms Foundation—an exclusive honor given to only 50 schools in the United States. A Principal School Award, which gives a Valley Forge pilgrimage to a teacher and pupil, and a George Washington Honor Medal to the school, was won by Mrs. Edna Gullett, Head of the Social Studies Department. The entry was a large scrapbook with divisions on "Individual Enterprise," "Business Enterprise," and "This Is Your Life, John Q. Public," three projects conducted in Problems classes last year, and also included photographs and tape recordings. Mike Steadham, selected on the basis of a social studies test, scholarship, and League of Honor points, accompanied Mrs. Gullett to Valley Forge, May 3-5. This is Manual's second Honor Medal, The Ivian having won one in 1956.

Mike Steadham and Mrs. Edna Gullett admire the George Washington Honor Medal, part of the Principal School Award.

Students bring honor to Manual by participating in—and often winning—outside, school-approved activities. Among 1958 winners are Teddy Winckelbach, who won the district elimination of the American Legion Oratorical Contest. Rosalie Swain won honorable mention for her essay, "Vaccine Against Prejudice," in the B'nai B'rith contest, and Judy Neale won second place in the city VFW-sponsored "America's Future Is Up To Youth" essay contest. Participating in the state achievement finals were Allen Schlamp, Margaret Hughes, Karin Dornfeld, Anne Norcross, Charlotte MacMurray, Bill Davis, and Bob Sargeant in Spanish, and Alan Hedegard in mathematics.

Footlight Magic Lures 200 Redskins

The smell of grease paint and the thrill of acting enticed some 200 Manualites to participate in the four big acts of the Redskin Revue, annual student vaudeville, presented March 20 and 21 in our Auditorium. Dancing, singing and "clowning" got into each act.

In "Anchors Aweigh," which won the Best Act Award, Neptune, Mike Steadham, watches love-sick gobs pretend that their mops are girl dancing partners.

Teddy Winckelbach won the Best Girl Performer Award for her performance in "Once a Year Day." Teddy led a traditional German song, "Das Instruments."

Dave Richards receives the Best Boy Performer trophy for a trumpet solo in "Shufflin' South," from Judge Bob Morrison, while Mr. Fred Bennett looks on.

In Annual 'Revue'

The Acts for the 1958 show were "Hillbilly Wedding," by Mary Ella Beeman and Oma Birl; "Shufflin' South," by Jackie Goad and Steve Matthews; "Once a Year Day," by Lin Schulz and Julie Kistler; "Anchors Aweigh," by Roines and directed by Frank Carson and Don Kerner.

TOP—Tom VanArsdale and Martha Edmonds laugh at Ronnie Connor's antics in "Hillbilly Wedding." Ron was named Best Comedian. BOTTOM—Evelyn Lowe and Mary Ella Beeman, Best Comedienne, sing a duet accompanied by Dick Cuthbertson on his guitar.

Organizations Provide Many

After-school activities round out a busy life at Manual. Deserving students are elected to honoraries; others join groups of pupils who share mutual interests. Our conference periods are filled with club meetings, music rehearsals, and play practices. These organizations help us gain experience in shouldering responsibility and in cooperating with others.

Fun-Filled Hours

Top Scholars Gain Honor Posts

Roines Members Mike Steadham and Allen Medlock play "teacher" for Freshmen Judy Deer and Bill Schmidt in Roines Study Hall.

Now in its third year at Manual, the National Honor Society initiated 17 seniors and 17 juniors this year. Announced in an auditorium program April 16, new members were formally installed Sunday, April 27, with a reception afterwards for the members and their families, friends, teachers, and other guests. Membership in the organization is based on character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The Manual Chapter, sponsored by Miss Mary Anna Rose, has the Flaming Torch as its symbol.

The Senior Honorary organizations, Masoma for girls and Roines for boys, have as their purpose service to Manual. Masomas serve at athletic banquets and teas, and sponsor parties for freshman girls. Roines boys help with the program on Alumni night. At Christmas they build a huge evergreen wreath which they suspend over the windows above the main entrance of the building. For a new project this year they gave freshmen a helping hand by supervising a ninth hour study hall. Each organization concentrates on helping freshmen adjust to high school and on assisting faculty, students, and guests.

S A B Backs Activities

Student Affairs Board, Manual's student council group, concerns itself with student welfare. Members, elected from all four classes, act as "go-betweens" for Manualites and administrators. Working closely with the Board is a Council made up of one representative from each Home Room. This group helps the Board carry out its activities. Special project this year was an all-school Clean-up Campaign the last of April. The Board regularly sponsors after-game dances, freshman mixers, and supervises various all-school elections throughout the year.

Quill and Scroll Cites 'Best' Journalists

Manual journalists who do outstanding work on school publications are honored by election to our chapter of Quill and Scroll, International Honorary for High School Journalists. To be eligible a student must be a junior or senior and have been on a staff for at least a year.

Cub Club, which meets every Monday afternoon for a "workshop" session in the Publications Office, is for freshmen and sophomores interested in publications work. These "cub reporters" receive instruction in newswriting, proof reading, headlining, and other phases of newspaper production. Several times this year they concentrated their efforts and produced feature stories that were used in The Booster.

CUB CLUB—SITTING: Mary Jane Winstead, Karin Dornfeld, Judy Harris, Paula Williams, Judy Stuart, Nor-mae Branham, Cynthia Eggert, Carol Hoeping. STANDING: Carolyn Risinger, Phyllis Heavrin, Nicky Ferris, Mary Lou Hoeping, Nadine Faughn, Lori Davis, Mrs. Rosemary Lewis.

Stage-Struck Pupils Believe 'Play's the Thing'

The saying "There's a little 'ham' in everyone" proves itself in Manual pupils who join in dramatic activities. Members of Mask and Wig gain experience by participating in plays both for their own group's meetings, and for public performances. The big spring play was "If Girls Asked Boys for Dates." Seniors go out for their Class Play; this year's was "Curious Savage."

Membership in National Thespians, honorary for dramatics students, is gained by an accumulation of points from public appearances, speaking, acting, or singing. Mr. E. Edward Green, Director of Productions, sponsors this group.

NATIONAL THESPIANS—SEATED: Helen Webb, Alice Bennett, Norva Lintecum, Martha Edmonds. STANDING: Billie Sue Clark, Betty Shaner, Linda Bloemker, Nancy Brandlein.

Crew Makes Sure Show Goes On

Manual's back-stage crews, the indispensable but often unsung heroes of the theatre, are active, willing, efficient workers. Stage crafters, sound technicians, and electricians are behind every program presented all year. "Flats" and other scenery are made by the stage crew. These are stored after being used in the stage craft room for future productions. The lights for our well-equipped stage are easily operated from the large control panel. The sound crew not only sets up "mikes" in the Auditorium and adjusts the volume, but also controls the public address system for the whole school and takes care of the sound system in the Gymnasium.

Steve Spacke patiently awaits the signal before pulling a switch at the light control board. Levers on the huge panel control footlights, houselights, overheads, and banks.

'Y' Groups Active in Model United Nations

Members of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, clubs affiliated with the YMCA, participate in the Model United Nations each spring. Students are registered as delegates from the member nations, dress in costume appropriate to their "native lands," and meet in regular UN sessions at the State House. Simulating United Nations' business meetings, these delegates make speeches (sometimes in foreign tongues that require translators) and debate current questions. This year some 20 Manualites attended the four-day session which closed with a dinner at Southside Y.

Manual's Y groups (Y-Teens is a third) have regular bi-weekly meetings after school. Their purpose is to foster Christian living and promote friendship. As a money-making project to help defray expenses for the Model UN, Tri-Hi-Y sells Manual derbies to Sectional fans. Made of red or white felt and sporting a feather in the other color, these have become "official" headgear for Manual rooters.

Clubs Link to Classes

Many of our extra-curricular activities tie in well with academic classes. Tops among these are the Odd Number Club, for pupils interested in creative writing, the Swords Club, for those wishing to develop better vocabularies, the Spanish Club, for students of Spanish desiring extra practice in conversational Spanish, the Radio Speech Club, for would-be-broadcasters trying their "wings," and, new this year, the Honor Science Club.

The Honor Science Club planned and directed Manual's Science Fair on April 23 for which close to 100 pupils developed and exhibited projects. Numerous visitors from other departments, trooped through the labs to inspect the exhibits.

Junior Kay Kleifgen explains the project with which she won a third place in the Regional Science Fair to Senior Bill Phillips, president of the Honor Science Club. Kay also received a blue ribbon at Manual's Science Fair.

Shown in the studio of station WMHS, Manual's own broadcasting station, are Helen Webb and Chuck Huppert. Helen awaits Chuck's signal to begin her broadcast as other members of the Radio Speech Club observe from the adjoining classroom. Mrs. Mildred Haskens sponsors this group which broadcasts twice daily.

CHOIR—FRONT ROW: Joyce Sullivan, Judy Norcross, Ruth Muir, Linda Bloemker, Patty Smith, Frances Stewart, Ann Stultz, Martha Edmonds, Ruth White, Al Pittman, Teddy Winckelbach. # Vocalists Harmonize For 'Note'-able Events

Manual students who like to sing may sign up for Chorus, offered by the Music Department. Students are picked from these classes for the two large performing groups, the Choir and the Girls' Glee Club. Both organizations have select ensembles, the Manualairres from the Choir, and the Glee-ettes from the Glee Club, who sing for programs where a small group is needed. All groups are busy throughout the year singing for school, civic, and church functions. They combine efforts for the operetta, presented in the fall, the Christmas Auditorium, and the May Music Festival. A half-credit is given, and participants also receive League of Honor points.

"I've never seen a girl drum major who could command a band as well," remarked a judge at the Indiana Music Association Marching Contest, about Manual's Drum Major Judy Ferguson. Judy learned her best "twirling tricks" at Drum Major Camp last summer.

Buck, Manual's Spirit of Victory, owned and ridden by Junior Jerry Isaacs, charges through the Band at the start of a show bearing Jerry in authentic Indian regalia. In front of the Band, struts Jewel Vaughn, feature twirler. An impressive sight!

Our 'Hit' Paraders Make Band Flashy

Manual's "Best Band," cited for the fourth straight year by the Downtown Kiwanis Club, put in many hours of practice and actual performance. Besides the extravagant half-time football shows in the fall, the Band led parades, and participated in contests, carrying off top honors in every case. During the winter months, it became a Concert Band.

Our 42-piece Orchestra, directed by Miss Priscilla Smith, played for auditorium programs, Senior Vespers, and presented a concert with the Choir.

Indian princess twirlers are Mary Whitney, Mary Van Deventer, Carol Kemp, Nancy Brandlein, Vincena Hughett, and Bette Pierson.

Members Preview Careers for Future

Guidance for planning our futures is an important part of our educational activities at Manual. Clubs in our extra-curricular program that help us really know about vocations and avocations are popular.

Future Teachers of America plans activities intended to show members what the teaching profession is like from the teacher's side of the desk and, consequently, to assist them in deciding whether they want to prepare for the profession when they go on to college.

What girl's fondest dream isn't to have a home of her own some day? Future Homemakers is for all girls.

New this year, not only at Manual but nationwide, is Future Social Workers. In fact, Manual's club is the first of its kind. As such, its installation was sponsored by the Indianapolis Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, who provided a die for club pins and presented pins to the charter members. Sponsors are Miss Helen Negley and Mr. John Krueger, with Mrs. Martha-Belle Morgan as adviser.

Linda Dill serves punch to Mrs. Sondra Blau and Miss Helen Negley at the organization meeting for the Future Social Workers, March 13. Two other charter members, Donna Losey and Beth Ann Tucker, are standing by. Mr. Joe Marchese, Indianapolis Health and Welfare Council, spoke to some forty persons attending.

Everyone at Manual can say he is a member of the Junior Red Cross because each year, when the drive for funds takes place, all students contribute. However, Manual has an active Junior Red Cross Club which participates in the activities set up for such groups by the Indianapolis Red Cross Chapter. Among its interesting projects is the designing and making of table center pieces for special-occasion dinners at the Veterans' Hospital. Our club has been commended several times for its clever, well-executed table decorations, and these have been displayed as examples for other groups to follow.

In Club Programs

Future Homemakers served refreshments when they ribboned new members at the regular March meeting. "Pouring" at the punch bowl is Treasurer Glenda Cobb. Other girls are Charlene Hodges, vice-president, Jacqueline Swatts, Nancy Reese, and Barbara Helm, new pledges, and Lori Davis, president. Mrs. Rovene Yeager is sponsor.

Rompin' Redskins Boast

From the first touchdown in the Fall, through the action-packed basketball season, to the last home run in the Spring, Manual's Redskins are right there fighting all the time. Manual fans, who yell their hearts out for their "big" teams whether they win or lose, almost burst with pride at the impressive records chalked up this year. It's been tops all the way!

Winning Seasons...

Best Gridiron Team in Twenty-five Years

Football headlined Manual's fall sports calendar. Coach Noah Ellis guided the Redskin Eleven to their most successful season in over 25 years, with a 7-2 record. Washington applied an early season loss, but the never-say-die Redskins stayed in the city championship race down to the wire.

The Manual gridmen, featuring a light, but fast squad, scalped Sacred Heart, September 6, for their first win in an opener since 1950. Leon Harris, promising 175-pound freshman halfback, scored three touchdowns in the 42-12 triumph. Washington won 12-0, despite having their backs to the wall nearly three quarters. Once the 'Skins marched to the Continental two-yard line only to be stopped. "Fired up" over the Washington loss, Manual trampled Howe 37-6, the following Friday. Dave Miller, junior halfback, scored three times in the annual Dads' Night game.

Eight Redskins scored touchdowns, as the Ellismen gave a homecoming crowd something to talk about, massacring Warren Central, 70-0. It was the highest point-total by a Manual team since 1923.

Chosen as the Manual gridders' most valuable player this year was Dave Enright, team captain and fullback.

Thrills Redskin Fans

"Hitting the road" for three games, the 'Skins defeated Southport, 26-0, Ben Davis, 45-6, and Shortridge, 21-19.

Returning home, tough Crispus Attucks formed the next opposition. The Redskins led all the way in a 13-6 victory.

The Ellismen wrapped up the season at Broad Ripple, going into the game with a mathematical chance to capture their first city championship in 31 years and riding high on a six-game winning streak. But Ripple put a 27-0 damper on Manual hopes with Tech grabbing the title.

Larry Hall, sophomore quarterback, is downed by two Warren Central tacklers.

Dave Boyle (45), Leon Harris (51), Dennis Jackson (52), and Kenny Graves (49) close in on a Washington griddier. Washington, one of the top teams in city competition, handed Manual one of our two defeats, 12-0.

Kenny Graves, junior fullback, is stopped by a Warren tackler after gaining valuable yardage. Below, Leon Harris, freshman halfback, is tripped-up by a Warren Warrior.

Future Hopes Bright

John Stafford, 185-pound junior tackle, won an all-city berth at guard; and Dave Enright, full-back and team captain, was chosen "most valuable player."

With only nine seniors, and with sixteen underclassmen earning letters, Manual's grid future looks bright.

Boys Blend with Girls In 'Raising Roof'

Supervised by the cheerleaders, the organized Girls Pep Club sits in a block at both football and basketball games and performs its routines of colorful cheers. During football season, members dressed in white sweatshirts with red emblems. For basketball season, white mits with red backs were added, and at the last game before Christmas, Santa Claus (Mike Steadham) came out during the half and presented red headbands and feathers to the Pep Club girls.

Not to be outdone, the Lettermen's Club formed a Pep Club for boys, adding a bass note to the cheers. Lined up on the bleachers—Girls Pep Club, Pep Band, Boys Pep Club—the whole outfit really made themselves heard.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS: Judy Neale, Marjorie Hartley, Sandy Steele, and Carolyn Ibaugh.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS—Backing Manual's big teams were Sandra Lasley, Judy Schoenherr, Sonja Keating, and Bob Walker. Adding an Indian flavor for the Redskins were Princess Sue Hawley in her gray beaded buckskin Indian outfit and Indian War Dancer Nicky Ferris.

CROSS COUNTRY — FRONT ROW: Marty Baron, Larry Walker, Billy Snead, Willard Miller, Larry Sexton, Bob Snoddy, Ronald Crook, Ben Townsend, Erv Bultman, Tony Uuk. ## Cross Country Men Train on Long Track

Manual's "unsung heroes," the cross country runners, go through their paces each Fall running the two-mile course both as a competitive sport and to get in shape for other athletics.

Garfield Park offers ample running space for the Redskin distance-men to practice in their red sweat clothes after school. A good winning time in a meet is between 10 and 11 minutes. Jack Foster, head coach, had 17 boys out for the varsity squad and nine boys running on the freshman team.

Against competition the Redskin thinlies compiled a .500 percentage over the season, winning four and losing four. Bob Snoddy, a senior and a veteran at running the distance races, paced the 'Skins during the campaign. Tony Uuk and Erv Bultman, also seniors, and Marty Baron, sophomore, were among Manual's top runners.

Bob Snoddy (38), Marty Baron (37), Tony Uuk and Erv Bultman (in background) turn on the speed on the last stretch of their two mile run.

Ron Miller (white jersey) and a Howe cager scramble for a loose ball as Ray Schultz (32) and Erv Bultman (12) prepare for action.

Tall Team Tallies

From top to bottom the 1957-58 basketball season was a success at Manual. Every team from the varsity on down to the eighth grade compiled winning records.

The varsity squad, coached by Dick Cummins, chalked up their best record in over 15 years as the Redskins won 14 of 22 contests.

The Cumminsmen opened the season, flooring one of the tallest outfits in the state. Three starters measured 6-4 and two stood at 6-2. This was one of the main reasons they won six of their first seven games, including a victory over sectional runnerup, Ben Davis.

14-8 Season, Lose Only Two Seniors

However, a five-game losing skein at midseason hit the 'Skins. Instilling new confidence and juggling his lineup, Cummins worked his cagers back into contention by Sectional time with a 68-61 triumph over a tough Scecina team.

Manual ran away from Washington in the fourth quarter in their first sectional tilt, but Broad Ripple eliminated the Redskins, 71-61, in the second round of tournament action.

From the ten boys who dressed for the sectional, only Erv Bultman and Ben Townsend will graduate. Bultman was the team's leading scorer and received the MVP award. Townsend won the free throw trophy and Ray Schultz, a 6-4 junior, was named to the all-sectional team.

Ron Miller (34) dribbles into a pack of North Central Panthers and Ray Schultz readies for action.

Best-Ever Freshmen Win City Tourney

Manual's reserve and freshman basketball teams were also blessed with highly successful seasons. "Woody" McBride's B-team turned in a fine 12-won, 8-lost record and Harold Bennett's rhinies were city champs, compiling a 21-2 mark.

The freshmen were especially promising since Tom and Dick VanArsdale, 6-1 twin brothers, moved up to the varsity squad and dressed for the sectional near the latter part of the campaign. Leon Harris, Larry Short, and Jim Cummings were promoted to the reserve squad.

Only Sacred Heart and Howe administered the Frosh's two defeats.

Ray Schultz displays perfect form as he cons to a field goal in the Wood game. Tony Uuk (54) and Ron Miller (right) have their eyes set on a rebound if the shot is missed.

Jack Foster guided the Manual grapplers to a fine season winning six and losing seven, but facing some of the state's best competition. The team also placed seventh in the state finals and showed signs of flashiness mixed with confidence.

The Redskin wrestlers placed three boys in the state finals with Bill Andrews, a 120-pound junior, taking a state championship for the second straight year. Jim Mahan, 133-pound junior, placed third in the finals, and Scott Frazier, 95-pound sophomore, wrestled his way to fourth.

Manual Wrestlers Place Seventh in State

Merle Sowert, 145 pound grappler, climbs atop a Howe opponent in a contest held in the wrestling room of the boys' gym. Sowert pinned his foe as the Redskins won by a lopsided score.

Andrews Rates 'Champ' Again

Against city competition, Manual's tusslers compiled two wins against four defeats. The 'Skins whipped Howe and Wood and lost to Washington, Broad Ripple, Tech, and Shortridge. In the city meet they placed fifth but turned in a sparkling job in the sectional, finishing second and placing six boys in the regionals.

Foster is expecting big things of this team next year, with 10 of the first 12 underclassmen back. Dick Neal, 127-pounder, and Mike Eskitch, 133-pounds, will be the only seniors lost by graduation. The reserve wrestling team also turned in a fine record. Under the guidance of Jack Johns, the B-team will help bolster future mat teams.

All set to pin this Howe Horner's shoulders to the mat is Richard Rasdell, 165 pound sophomore, who won this match by a fall. Rasdell placed third in the sectionals, which helped the Redskins finish runnerup to Tech.

Record-Breakers Add

Eight "New School" records were smashed during the 1957 track season as Coach Francis Moriarty's fleetmen, composed mostly of inexperienced sophomores, turned in a fine season. Most notable of the new records broken was by senior dashman, John Keating, who sped to a :10.1 clocking in the 100-yard dash. Other new marks to be set were: Erv Bultman, 5-11 $\frac{7}{8}$  high jump; Keating, :22.7 time in the 220-yard dash; Bob Snoddy, 4:51.3 mile run; Keating, 21 foot broad jump; Ken Graves, 47-2 shot put; and the half mile relay team composed of Chuck DeRolf, Howard Smiley, Larry Hamner, and Keating with a time of 1:37.2.

The Redskin ovalmen chalked up a 5-7 record in dual meets and placed third in the Washington Sectional. Coach Moriarty lost only Keating, Smiley, Maurice Bush, Don Williams, and Jim Finchum by graduation.

John Keating shown in his usual style of arms flying and tongue wagging tries his skill in the city meet, broad jumping. The senior trackster holds the record at 21 feet.

Ron Miller, a 6-4 sophomore, was one of the many promising high jumpers on the 1957 track squad.

Running his specialty, John Keating takes a first in his heat of the 100-yard dash in the city meet at Tech. Against Cathedral, John set a new record with a :10.1 clocking.

Reserves Chalk-up 10-1 Season; Linkmen 12-4

Manual's varsity baseballers enjoyed one of their most successful seasons in 1957 when they won eight of thirteen contests. Paul Schoch, junior catcher, was elected most valuable player by Elwood McBride's squad. Ben Townsend, a 6-2 junior, was given credit for pitching the Redskins to victory in seven of the contests. He was also the team's leading slugger, swinging at a .375 clip. McBride also pointed out Dave Enright and Dave Richards as "long ball hitters." Five sophomores held down regular positions and only one member graduated, second baseman Kent Klinge.

Dick Cummins' reserve diamondmen also had a "banner" year, winning 10 games and losing only to Tech in an extra inning game. Steve Wright, promising sophomore pitcher, hurled nine wins, including a no-hit and a one-hit game.

Ron Woods, thirdbaseman, was one of five sophomores to hold a regular position on the 1957 baseball team. Here, in practice, Ron takes his turn at bat.

Boys Enjoy Exercise

Most any day after school that the Boys' Gym is not in use for a varsity practice of some kind, groups of boys may be found there participating in hastily gotten-up games. No program of organized intramural sports is set up unless the demand warrants. This year the newly founded Boys' Bowling League seemed to attract all the interest. More than 50 boys organized into teams and bowled regularly on Tuesday afternoons.

The up-side-down boy performing on the swinging poles is Freshman Steve Faires while his class looks on.

Sitting-up exercises are part of the regular routine in boys gym classes. Gym is a good deal, say the fellows, because you can unbend a little for a period.

Man on "the flying trapeze" is Freshman Steve Boone. Tricks of the trade in the Boys Gym are performed on rings, parallel bars, horses, and, of course, floor mats.

Lively games of Volley Ball fill the Girls Gym with shouting, laughing players every Monday and Friday afternoons during the three-months season. Organized teams play a series of games and there is keen competition. Winning team members this year received aluminum-cup trophies tied with red and white bows.

Girls Develop Poise

What woman isn't interested in developing a good figure and proper carriage? Activities in Girls' Gym classes do just that. Miss Theo Parr and Miss Elena Raglin, instructors, put girls through a series of exercises and games designed to help their pupils acquire grace and poise. What more could one ask!

Sports-minded girls also participate in a diversified program of intra-mural sports. Last fall the girls played tennis on the Garfield Park courts and also used the Park's archery range. During the winter their Bowling League met once a week, and Volley Ball teams played twice a week. Spring sports include badminton, softball, ping pong, golf, and tennis.

Looking like a mass of tumble bugs, these girls are doing back bends in preparation for an achievement test of skills. The one in the middle looks "down and out."

Album Puts Manualites

Since there are more than 1800 Manualites, we are never all in one place at the same time. Even auditorium programs must be done in shifts, and lunch is served through four periods. But we all "held still" long enough to be together in the next 50 pages—the whole Manual family, students, teachers, staff—grouped "classically" for easy finding.

With a teakettle of boiling water and a jar of powdered coffee, Mrs. Ada Bing finds it easy to serve coffee for her English Department members. Mrs. Vivian Siener receives her cup while Mrs. Rosemary Lewis and Mr. Fred Bennett await their turns.

"There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," joshes Mr. E. Edward Green. This cosy group, relaxing in the Alumni Room during an English Department meeting, are Mrs. Mildred Haskens, Miss Helen Tipton, and Mr. W. Finley Wright.

Teachers Are 'People'

Manual faculty members don't just "work" at Manual; they are dyed-in-the-wool Redskins who put in many extra hours helping student projects succeed, whether they be academic, social, or money-making in nature.

Department meetings are often held in the "new" Alumni Room over a cup of coffee brewed in the kitchenette, which hides behind an accordion door when not in use. This makes a nice respite after a day of classes and conferences before the group settles down to the business at hand. Our teachers seem to enjoy these informal gatherings, and we suspect that more than just school work is discussed in the genial atmosphere of this attractive room, furnished by the Alumni.

And Ours Prove Both 'Human' and Helpful

We are proud of our faculty's qualifications and achievements. More than 30 colleges and universities are represented among the schools which have granted our teachers degrees, and many have more than one. We students feel that all of our teachers are well prepared to instruct us in the many courses included in Manual's varied curriculum.

A survey by The Booster, made because of all the to-do about science resulting from Russia's first Sputnik, showed our 11 science teachers have a total of 735 college hours of science. And teachers in other departments are as well qualified in their subject fields. Under this expert guidance, more graduates go on to college each year.

"The good earth" is what Mr. James Guillaume, art teacher, calls this symbolic piece of sculpturing, which is his project for his Master's Thesis in Sculpture.

Mr. W. Finley Wright, who retired as Dean of Boys at the end of March, seats his successor, Mr. John W. Patten, in the inner sanctum of the Dean's Office.

Mr. E. Franklin Fisher, senior sponsor, pins the first senior arm band on President Jerry Mayfield who designed it. Looking on with interest are Gary Beplay, vice-president, and Don Kerner, treasurer.

Class of '58 Enjoys Year to Remember

Seniors always meet for Home Room in the Cafeteria so that the class can be together once each day. This gives a chance for business meetings, counseling programs, and special announcements. Senior Day, October 23, opened the year's activities. Seniors wore their red and white ribbons and arm bands for the first time. "The door to success is labeled 'Push'" was announced as class motto.

March 28, Seniors attended a square dance, where a professional caller supervised the dancers who later enjoyed cokes and hot dogs. 'Twas a gay evening!

Red and white robes were voted for a "colorful" Commencement, June 12. Final class function will be the Prom at the I. U. Medical Center.

'Behind Scenes' Crew Keeps School Clean,

Cashier Helen Litzelman has a large chore as she checks out the students at the end of one of the four steam tables.

Louise Anderson is ready to dole out salads from their bed of ice on the salad counter, as hungry Manualites pass by.

Giant-size potato mashers are needed for Redskins' large appetites. Here Addie Smith prepares potatoes that will soon be a steaming pile of fluffy white.

Thanks to Manual's efficient custodial staff, the school always has that newly scrubbed look. With the many rooms, miles of corridors, and hundreds of windows our custodians and matrons are kept busy from early morning to late at night. A more helpful group we could not want, and all seem to take personal pride in keeping Manual looking new and shiny. Our hats are off to them.

The building is just part of the staff's job. Keeping the campus in trim entails cutting grass, pruning shrubs, and planting and growing flowers. Practicing horticulture as a hobby, custodians grow their own flowers in a plot near the boiler-room door, which is gay with blossoms.

Pupils, Staff Well-Fed

Anna Banner has a big job rolling crust for chicken pie, a favorite of Manual students for a "heap big" lunch.

Manual's Cafeteria is really a show place for modern kitchen equipment with its walk-in refrigerators, specialized pressure cookers, large ranges, and over-size pans and kettles. New this year is a series of pie ovens which mean homemade pies every day. Menus, carefully planned by Mrs. Agatha Riley, cafeteria manager and dietitian, give Redskins a wide choice for varied lunches. All-time-favorite lunch is a "Sloppy-joe" with French fries, but even fried chicken often graces the menu. A 40-minute lunch period spent in the pleasant atmosphere of our large, airy cafeteria makes a welcome break in the school day. After eating, pupils have ample time for a few minutes of study or for just chatting with friends.

Earl Ritter, typical of Manual's custodians, sweeps floors several times each day to keep the school spic 'n span.

Advertisers 'Talk Shop'

School is over for the day and the big parking lot is almost empty; Manualites have gone shopping. Business folks in the community know that Redskins and their families are good customers. Their ads in the following pages, directed to us, prove these advertisers' awareness of our present and potential buying power. Many of us will be home-makers "tomorrow."
